It is very likely your clothes will get wet and muddy, so be prepared by packing enough spare clothes for each day of competition. If the forecast calls for rain, or if there is a lot of water on the track, we will remind drivers to have a set of dry clothes to change into once their driving is done. In 2009 I saw a driver from another team in the endurance race on the verge of hypothermia, so drivers should wear thermal underwear if they will be getting wet.
