SAVVY (Student Association of Vegan and Vegetarian Youth) is having a Super Bowl potluck on Tues. 2/3 at 7PM in the Burton 1 lounge. Come for free food (and if possible, bring a vegan dish to share)!

If you want to advertise an event in this toilet-side periodical, E-mail Becky and Theresa at Tiernan.Project@gmail.com with the details.

This winter, Rochester is Green! UR Unplugged, an energy-saving competition, will see the dorm buildings compete against each other for weekly and grand prizes. It's Burton-Lovejoy vs. Towers vs. Phase vs. GLC vs. everyone else to see which dorm can be most energy efficient. So take a shorter shower, turn off your lights, and DO IT IN THE DARK.

(Sponsored by Grassroots, ResLife, and Facilities)

This publication is put out by the Tiernan Project, the special interest housing floor for community service. Come check us out at our weekly meetings:

The concert was organized to honor one of their senior members who was diagnosed with lymphoma this fall. He is currently undergoing chemotherapy and radiation at the Wilmot Cancer Center here at UR. Since they absolutely wanted to help, they decided to dedicate the concert to him and use the event to raise money for the Cancer Center for research and treatment purposes.
